

Paylist Privacy Policy

Last updated: August 13, 2026

1. Overview

This Privacy Policy explains how Paylist ("we", "us") collects, uses, and protects personal data when you use our Service.

By using Paylist, you agree to the practices described in this Policy.

2. Data we collect

Account data: email address, name (if provided), authentication identifiers, and subscription plan status.

Usage data: subscriptions you add (names, prices, currencies, billing dates, categories, notes), app settings, and language preferences.

Technical data: device/session identifiers, IP address, browser type, and logs needed for security and troubleshooting.

Payment data: processed by payment providers; we store billing references, not full card numbers.

3. How we use data

We use data to provide and improve the Service, calculate analytics, send optional reminders, process premium payments, and respond to support requests.

We do not sell your personal data.

4. Notifications

If you enable reminders, we may send notifications via Telegram or email based on your account settings and each subscription's notification preference.

You can disable notifications in profile settings or per subscription.

5. Storage and security

Data is stored on secure servers with access controls. We apply reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect information.

No method of transmission or storage is completely secure; please use a strong password.

6. Third parties

We may share limited data with infrastructure, payment, email, and messaging providers strictly to operate the Service.

Third parties are required to protect data according to contractual and legal obligations.

7. Your rights

Depending on your location, you may request access, correction, deletion, or export of your personal data, and object to certain processing.

Contact support@playlist.app to exercise these rights. You may delete your account in profile settings.

8. Changes and contact

We may update this Policy. Material changes will be communicated through the Service when appropriate.
